

STANDARD TRADING CONDITIONS

SARJAK CONTAINER LINES PVT. LTD.

1. Definitions and Application

In these Conditions:

“Company” means Sarjak Container Lines

“Customer” means the person with whom the Company contracts for the carriage of merchandise, arranges for the carriage of merchandise, or for whom the Company undertakes any business or provides advice, information, or services.

“Owner” means the owner of the goods (including any packaging, containers or equipment) to which any business concluded under these Conditions relates and any other person who is or may become interested in them.

2. General Conditions

2.1 All business undertaken and services provided, whether gratuitously or not, by the Company are subject to the Conditions hereinafter set out. No other terms or conditions shall apply to the arrangements provided for under these Conditions. Should the customer wish to contract with the Company otherwise than subject to these Conditions, special arrangements may be made and revised prices quoted, provided that such arrangements shall only apply if made in writing and signed by a director or the secretary of the Company. Save as aforesaid, no agent or employee of the Company has the Company’s authority to waive or vary these Conditions.

2.2 If any legislation is compulsorily applicable to any business undertaken, these Conditions shall, as regards such business, be read as subject to such legislation and nothing in these Conditions shall be construed as a surrender by the Company of any of its rights or immunities or as an increase of any responsibilities or liabilities under such legislation and if any part of these Conditions be repugnant to such legislation to any extent such part shall as regards such business be overridden to that extent and no further.

2.3 The Company may act as a freight forwarder and, subject to the following provisions, shall be entitled to arrange all or any of the carriage, storage, packing or handling of the goods, or any other services required by the Customer, as agent on behalf of the Customer, or to provide all or any part of such services as principal.

2.4 When acting as an agent, the Company does not make or purport to make any contract with the Customer for the carriage, storage, packing or handling of any goods nor for any other physical service in relation to them and acts solely on behalf of the Customer in securing services by establishing contracts with third parties so that direct contractual relationships are established between the Customer and such third parties.

2.5 To the extent that the Company itself by its own servants performs all or any part of the carriage, storage, packing or handling of the goods, or any other services required by the Customer, the Company shall be deemed to provide such services, or the part so performed, as principal contractor.

2.6 Where the Company:

- (A) holds itself out to the operator of a regular line or service over the route, or part of the route, on which the goods are to be carried; and
- (B) also accepts instructions for the carriage of the goods by that line or service:

The Company shall (except where the Company procures a bill of lading or other document evidencing a contract of carriage between a carrier, or shipowner, whether or not named in the bill of lading, and the Customer or Owner) be deemed to provide such carriage or part thereof as principal contractor, provided always that the Company may provide other services to the Customer or Owner, and those services may be provided by the Company as agent or as principal depending upon all the circumstances, but always subject to the provisions of these Conditions.

- 2.7 Except to the extent set out in Clause 2.6, the Company shall be deemed to be acting as agent in any case where the Company enters into a contract with any other person for the carriage, storage, packing or handling of the goods or for any other services in relation thereto and such contract is capable and such contract is capable of being enforced by the Customer or Owner as principal, whether or not the Customer or Owner is named or disclosed as principal by the Company.
- 2.8 The charging or agreement to charge a fixed price for any services shall not of itself determine whether the Company arranges such service as agent or provides the same as principal.
- 2.9 Unless given express instructions in writing by the Customer which instructions are accepted in writing, the Company reserves to itself absolute discretion as to the means, route, and procedure to be followed in the handling, storage, and transportation of goods, Further, the Company reserves to itself the right to deviate from agreed instructions at any stage should it believe such deviation to be in the Customer's best interests or it is otherwise expedient to do so and any such deviation is done at the sole risk of the Customer.
- 2.10 Until the forwarding or delivery of goods, the Company may store the goods at its sole discretion and the cost of such storage shall be for the account of the Customer.
- 2.11 The Company shall not be obliged to make any declaration of value (where option) for the purpose of any statute or convention or contract as to the nature or value of any goods or as to any special interest in delivery, unless expressly instructed by the Customer in writing, and then only if agreed in writing by the Company.
- 2.12 The Company shall be liable for any duties, taxes, imposts, levies, deposits, or outlays of any kind levied by the authorities at any port or place for or in connection with the goods and for any payments, storage, demurrage, fines, expenses, loss, or damage whatsoever incurred or sustained by the Company in connection therewith.
- 2.13 The Company may sell or otherwise dispose off perishable goods which are not immediately taken up upon arrival or which are incorrectly addressed or marked or not readily identifiable without references to the Customer. Any charges or expenses arising from such sale or disposal shall be paid by the Customer. Payment of any moneys so received after deduction of charges and expenses shall be equivalent to delivery.
- 2.14 The Company may sell or otherwise dispose non-perishable goods which in the opinion of the Company cannot be delivered either because they were insufficiently or incorrectly addressed or because they have not been collected by a consignee upon the giving 14 days' notice in writing to the Customer. Any charges or expenses arising from such sale or disposal shall be paid by the Customer. Payment of any moneys so received after deduction of charges and expenses shall be equivalent to delivery.
- 2.15 All goods (and documents relating to goods) shall be subject to particular and general lien and right of detention for moneys due in respect of such goods including any brokerages, commissions, allowances and other remuneration customarily retained by or paid to forwarding agents (or freight forwarders) or for any particular or general balance or other moneys due from the Customer to the Company. If any moneys due to the Company are not paid within 14 days after notice has been given to the person from whom the moneys are due that such goods are being detained, they may be sold by auction or otherwise at the sole discretion of the Company and at the expense of such person, and the proceeds applied in or toward satisfaction of such indebtedness and the Company will not be liable for any deficiencies or reduction in value received on the sale of the goods nor will the Customer be relieved on the sale of the goods nor will the Customer be relieved from liability merely because the goods have been sold.
